AMERICAN HENLEY BEING HELD TODAY

Fifth Annual Regatta of the American Rowing Association on Schuylkill River.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Philadelphia, Pa., May 25.—When the first race in the fifth annual regatta of the American Rowing Association (the American Henley, as it is often called) was begun this morning over the national course on the Schuylkill river a large crowd of rowing enthusiasts lined the banks and occupied every point of vantage on the cliffs and at the finish line. Every indication pointed to the contests being the most successful ever pulled off by the association. In the various events the picked crews of Yale, Cornell, Pennsylvania and other big colleges, together with representatives of the leading boat clubs of New York, Brooklyn, Washington, Baltimore, and Philadelphia, will contest for honors. Without question the schedule contains the names of the best rowing talent in the United States. It is the first big regatta of the year, and this fact explains the large number of entries and the enthusiasm being manifested. All the races are for one mile and start straightaway. Probably the most interest in being shown in the race for junior college eights. Twelve races are on the program and it will be late in the afternoon before the final event is decided.

So Officer Champion went to the scene to chase the youngsters away from their natural playground. Rumbolt, 22 years of age, 140 lbs. weight, smooth-faced, wearing blue coat and black derby, was suspected of having left that town suddenly with a black overcoat and suit-case, belonging to another. COLD BLOODED WIFE-MURDER CHARGED AGAINST DR. GUY

New York Dentist Will Be Brought To Trial Monday--Extravagance And Liquor Led To Quarrel.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, May 25.—The case of Dr. Samuel S. Guy, which is to be called for trial Monday at Flushing, promises to add another to the series of notable murder trials that have taken place recently in New York and vicinity. Dr. Guy is accused of having shot and killed his wife, Lillian Mott Guy, at their home in Far Rockaway on April 8 last. Dr. Guy is a wealthy dentist, 56 years old. His wife was 42 years of age. She was a descendant of the Mott family, which owned practically all of the Rockaways and the members of which are accounted very wealthy. The difficulties between Dr. Guy and his wife are said to have resulted from his extravagant mode of life and his fondness for liquor. Dr. Guy was coroner of Queens Borough for a number of years. On the day of the alleged crime Dr. Guy came from a saloon near his residence and entered his home. It is alleged he went to the kitchen and annoyed a servant for some minutes, finally being induced by his wife to leave the girl. The servant testified at the coroner's inquest that as husband and wife entered the dining-room Mrs. Guy slapped his face. Immediately afterward the door closed and in a few moments the girl heard two shots. Dr. Guy walked to the hall, took down his overcoat and started out of the house. A policeman met him and asked him where he was going. "Just to get a cigar," said the doctor. A few seconds later the cries of the servant were heard and the doctor was arrested. The body of Mrs. Guy was found lying in the dining-room with two bullet wounds in her breast.

ATLANTA'S STATUE OF GEN. JOHN B. GORDON UNVEILED

All Georgia Paid Tribute To Gallant Fighter-- Cadets From Gordon Institute In Parade.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Atlanta, Ga., May 25.—With elaborate military display and appropriate exercises, the handsome equestrian statue of General John B. Gordon, a tribute to his memory from the State of Georgia, was unveiled today in capitol park. Many persons of prominence, including scores of veterans who served under General Gordon, attended the ceremonies of dedication. The parade of military, fraternal and civic organizations was one of the largest ever seen in Atlanta. The procession was under the command of State Treasurer R. E. Tarkenton, acting as grand marshal. The line of march led through the principal business streets, the buildings along which were handsomely decorated and the sidewalks lined with spectators. In the parade were 250 cadets from the Gordon Institute at Barnestville, a squad of grizzled veterans from the Gordon Memorial Camp of Oxford, Ala., several companies of state militia, the local Confederate veterans and a number of semi-military and civic organizations. Arriving at the monument a vast concourse of people was assembled. The exercises were opened with an invocation by Rev. J. William Jones of Richmond, Va. Judge W. L. Calhoun read a history of the John B. Gordon Monument Association, and this was followed by the oration by Gen. Clement A. Evans. The statue was then unveiled by Mrs. Frances Gordon Smith of Atlanta and Mrs. Caroline Lewis Gordon Brown of Connecticut. daughters of General Gordon. As the draperies fell from about the statue and revealed the heroic bronze figure of the celebrated soldier the assembled thousands broke into a wild cheer, while the bands struck up the familiar strains of "Dixie." After the unveiling there was more music and a brief oration by General Stephen D. Lee, commander of the United States Confederate Veterans. Captain N. B. Harris of Macon formally turned over the monument to the State of Georgia, and Governor Terrell delivered the speech of acceptance. The exercises were closed with a benediction by Rev. Richard Orme Elmore. The monument unveiled today occupies a conspicuous position at the corner of Washington and Hunter streets, in the state capitol grounds. The statue was designed by Solon Borglum, the well-known New York sculptor, who was present at the unveiling exercises. The statue represents General Gordon on his favorite charger, his hat doffed. The likeness is pronounced most marvelously lifelike by the members of General Gordon's family and all those who knew the great Georgian intimately. The bronze figure is mounted upon a magnificent granite base weighing 20 tons. In addition to the inscriptions the base bears two bronze tablets in bas-relief. One of the tablets represents General Gordon as governor, the other is a representation of the memorable engagement of May 12 on which occasion General Gordon saved the life of General Robert E. Lee.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, May 25, 1867.—No Report.—The telegraph wires being down we are without our usual market reports today.

Next Tuesday Evening.—Those having the entertainment in charge for next Tuesday evening, are preparing to put on the boards a burlesque on the release of Jeff Davis which must afford one of the richest treats of the season. Five or six of our prominent lawyers are "retained" to take part in it and the part of Horace Greely, signing the bond has been committed to a prominent citizen who will "do" the while coated philosopher proud. The laughable comedy of Box and Cox will be repeated.

The Fuel Question.—We understand that it is in contemplation by some of our enterprising citizens to form an association for supplying themselves with cheap fuel, and also, so far as possible, the community in general.

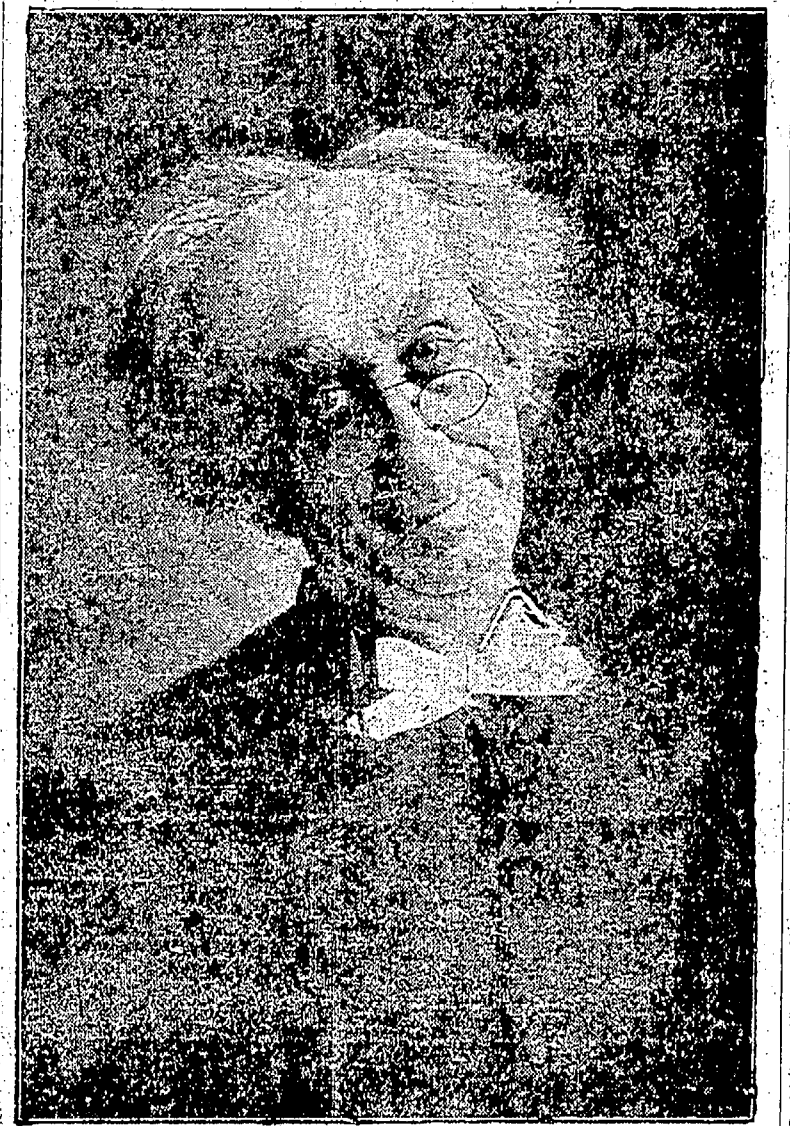

The purpose is to organize a joint stock company with a capital of fifty ten or twenty thousand dollars and immediately commence working some of the extensive peat beds in the vicinity of the city and supply the members of the association with fuel at the actual cost of production.

It appears to be a well established fact that fuel can be furnished at a price equal to about three dollars per cord for good wood, which taking into consideration the labor of preparing the wood for the stove, ought to be perfectly satisfactory to those who have paid the high price which fuel has heretofore commanded in our market.

We think this movement is made none too soon, as in other parts of the country capitalists and speculators are embarking in the manufacture of peat as a speculation, and unless our citizens forestall their action and secure for themselves some of the rich deposits of fuel now within their reach, the same class of men will monopolize our peat lands, and enrich themselves while we shall be compelled to purchase our fuel at the high prices we paid in former years.

Before The Footlights.

OSCAR L. FIGMAN AS SEEN IN "THE TENDERFOOT" TONIGHT

Oscar Figman and Ruth White will be seen at the Myers theatre tonight in Richard Carle's and H. L. Heintz's great musical comedy success, "The Tenderfoot." This characteristic opera abounds in picturesque scenes, and Texas locale giving abundant opportunity for richness of coloring in the costumes of the Mexicans and senoritas, the rangers and cowboys and girls, and the semi-rangers, visitors. The music is swinging and tuneful, while the comedy is of a variety that has caused critics to call "The Tenderfoot" the funniest of all comic operas.

Mr. Figman in the title role is said to be delightful with his quaint humor and dancing. Miss White, one of the greatest prima donnas in this country, brings to the role of Marion a remarkably fine soprano voice and acting ability. Lawrence Coover, a tenor of distinction, has made much of the role of Paul, while Harry B. Williams, Edythe Kheirn, Louise Brackett, and A. W. Hutchins, also score heavily. The chorus is splendidly drilled, and the organization is one of the largest that will be seen here during the entire season, numbering nearly seventy people.

She Didn't Understand.
A small boy who applied for admission to a New York public school, when asked as to his father's business, proudly responded: "He's a book-maker." That afternoon the teacher asked him to carry home a note which said: "Dear Mr. Blank:—Would you please tell me the cost of rebinding a set of Appleton's Cyclopaedia?"

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

It's a patient an' peace-makin' world.

—fur a fact.

No matter how bolst'rous the breezes may a'it;—

They'll come round as zephyrs that sing to the flowers.

An' the storms will be melted to soft summer showers;

The bee will find sweets where the icicles hung.

An' the birds will sing gay as they ever have sung.

Till it's time for the apples to ripen

an' fall

The same as if nothin' had happened at all.

—Washington Star.

Mark Twain says, in his book on Christian Science, that four-fifths of the ills of life are due to three causes —imagination, fear and worry—and that a religion, which enables a person to control these causes, is destined to have a large following.

He concludes, however, that if "Science and Health" is inspired, that it will never accomplish a very extensive mission at $3.00 per volume, in competition with a free Bible.

But this is not intended for a dissertation on Christian Science. The Gazette has discovered that it is neither safe nor profitable for the secular press to commend or criticize the little families in our parks and door-yards, come to us so quietly, that their presence is always a surprise.

They take their departure just as quietly and migrate by easy stages as winter approaches, to gather in great flocks, below the frost line, but like every variety of bird and animal life they live out allotted time, because free from worry and anxiety.

A farmer was driving an old horse, hitched to an old buggy, about his farm. He said to a visitor, "You can't guess the age of that horse," and then added, "He is 30, and good for five years more. I always let the horses live out their allotted time on the old farm where they were born."

The visitor looked at the horse and then at the man, and concluded that of the two the horse was the best preserved.

Nature is an object lesson which may be studied with profit every day in the year, and yet the textbook is so common, that, like water and air, it is seldom appreciated.

The pace of the human family, especially in this land, is a rapid pace.

We live and plan as though we expected to live forever, and the pace is seldom slackened until nature rebels, and the fact dawns upon us that there is a limit to endurance.

The pension list of the army, and of the railroads, represents but a fragment of the men and women who are on the retired list, or who have prematurely passed on in middle life.

Their retirement, in the prime of life, is not due to army exposure or old age, but simply to the fact that health was not appreciated until it was lost beyond recovery.

The hospitals and sanitariums of the land are crowded with sufferers, and the cities of the coast are largely populated with health-seekers, but the great army of the partially disabled is scattered over the country and found in every community.

Men and women who suffer from all sorts of real or imaginary diseases, and whose only satisfaction is found in the fact that they alone are responsible. While it is always poor consolation to say, "I told you so,"

yet this is about the only consolation to which many people are entitled.

They rush on year after year as though there was no limit to endurance, while all about them are object lessons in the shape of human wrecks who have traveled the same rapid pace.

Nature is never in a hurry, and of all created life, man is the only representative who rushes through existence without regard to consequences.

It pays to take time to live.

Statisticians show that the span of life is being lengthened, and the century mark is no longer a curiosity.

This is due, in great measure, to the fact that more care is exercised and more attention given to the laws of health.

Many people who do not subscribe to the creed of Christian Science, practice the arts employed, by controlling the imagination and will, regulating the nerve forces, and holding them in abeyance.

Sickness and complaining, with many people, is largely a matter of habit, the same as profanity and drunkenness. It is just as easy to cultivate good habits, as bad ones, and many people are enjoying good health today, because they have learned to cultivate the habit. It is the right thing to do, and when more generally practiced there will be less suffering from imaginary ills.

Quite a commotion was caused in Methodist circles, by the announcement of a Map pole, dance and program, and in spite of bad weather the church parlors were filled last evening with people interested to see a Methodist dance, while telephone lines were kept hot in attempting to explain. The Map pole dance is as old and innocent as childhood, but the misplacement of a comma caused confusion and proved a good advertising card for the entertainment.

In another column of the paper will be found the laws relative to the wanton killing of the song birds by youths and the punishment. The law is plain and should be carefully noted by parents of children and others who are interested in the preservation of the songsters.

It is reported that in years past

May has been a warm and comfortable month. (Taken from an ancient history.)

The legislature still has some time to run before it adjourns.

For instance, the dining-room, which is one of the most important rooms in the house,

The sideboard resplendent with cut glass, china, etc. The table spread with snowy linen there is any other thing for any other room in the house that you may need, please give us a

"A FACT"

You can sit down in the dental chair of Dr. Richards without feeling like going into spasms because of fear of pain.

He makes it his business to avoid hurting you.

It's a common thing to hear a patient say upon getting out of his chair, "Doctor, I won't be so much afraid next time."

"You didn't hurt me a bit."

Another common occurrence in his office is to hear people come in and say:

"Dr. Richards, your work for me has proven so satisfactory that I have recommended you and so to come to you for their work."

If you have Dr. Richards do your dental work you will be sure of at least two things:

It will be good work.

His prices will be most reasonable.

Try him for your next work.

CONGRESSMAN OF ALASKA IN CITY

HON. THOMAS CALE VISITED OLD FRIENDS THIS MORNING.

TELLS ABOUT HIS COUNTRY

And Regrets Wisconsin Legislature's Refusal to Help Alaska-Yukon Exposition Project.

Congressman Thomas Cale of Alaska, an old acquaintance of Isaac T. Connor, Officer John Brown, and other residents of this city, arrived in Janesville last evening and spent several hours with his friends this morning. He was at one time sheriff of Fond du Lac county and went north some years ago to look after the "Snohomish" project. "I have always liked to be with the crowd," he said in response to an inquiry made by one of the little group who talked with him at the city hall. Mr. Cale is the successor of Frank H. Waskay of Nome as representative of his territory in the 60th congress. He is a republican in politics and had to travel some three or four thousand miles in the campaign preceding his election. His home is at Fairbanks, a three-year-old mining camp about 400 miles from Valdez on the southern coast, which has become a city of 3,500 population with electric lights, steam-heated buildings, and the various other accessories that go with modern civilization.

"The Wisconsin legislature made a great mistake in refusing to make an appropriation for the Alaska-Yukon exposition at Seattle in 1909," he said with considerable feeling. "Wisconsin cannot afford to ignore Alaska; by far the most important of the non-contiguous possessions of the United States. The Philippines, Hawaii, and Porto Rico may be exploited by adventurers but millions of loyal American citizens are destined to make their permanent homes in the northland. In the southwestern section, the climate of which is tempered by the Japan current, are great areas of rolling country where the grass grows luxuriantly, where two tons of hay to the acre may be harvested, where cattle may graze the year round. There are hundreds of square miles of coal and copper deposits towards which the railroads are moving and already the Guggenheims, the great American mining kings, are preparing to develop those resources. It is true that the soil of the northern country is frozen to bed-rock and the upper crust thaws out only to a depth of two or three feet. But the whole surface is covered with a long-haired silken moss which acts as a non-conductor to heat and cold, and one may see great trees measuring two feet in diameter sending their roots out horizontally just beneath the coverlets of green and thus finding ample support and sustenance in the thick layer of unfrozen earth. Garden vegetables of all kinds are cultivated with success and the government experiment stations have demonstrated the fact that wheat and other hardy grains may be grown there, though agriculture along these lines has not been undertaken to any great extent.

"Mineral wealth is still the main quest of the people and will continue so. Placer mining allures and makes for an independent spirit among the people because, requiring no machinery or special skill, it offers the same golden opportunity to the poor man that quartz mining necessarily grants only to the rich. Of course, placer mining is pursued on an extensive scale in some places, steam being used to melt the frozen earth and operate hoists. But the man with the pickaxe has his chance. Wages are high. The common laborer often gets from $5 to $7 a day and his board or $10 a day if he boards himself. Food, of course, is expensive but the best is available if one has the money. The rivers abound in salmon and grayling—the finest in all the world—and caribou, mountain sheep, moose, and such birds as the grouse are abundant.

"People from all corners of the world—Africa, Australia, and Europe, have congregated there though the Americans from the western mining states are in the majority. The native Indians are peaceable and greatly resemble the Japs in physical characteristics. Many of them are highly skilled in carving the walrus teeth and fossil ivory. I have seen moose weighing 36 pounds and a tusk that its original state must have tipped the beams at 400 pounds from the remains of the prehistoric mastodons. "The Janesville exposition is an undertaking actuated purely by sentiment and we applaud it. The Yukon-Alaska exposition is to bring before the world the resources of a country which has one-fifth of the area of the United States." Representative Cale will return to the land of his adoption in June and come back to this country when congress assembles in December.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

Jabez Enjoyed the Pone Pudding and the Cat Got the Punishment.

The late Senator Pugh, of Alabama, practiced law for many years in Eufaula. A Eufaula man said of him the other day:

"In an eloquent speech on circumstantial evidence I once heard Senator Pugh drive home the danger of this sort of evidence with a good story.

"He said that a Eufaula woman made one of those pone puddings for which the ladies of our state are famous. She put the pudding on a shelf to cool and then she went out to have a dress fitted. Her little son Jabez was left alone in the house.

"Jabez played with his toys till he got hungry. Then he put a chair beneath the shelf, climbed up and ate all of the delicious pone pudding that his small interior would possibly hold. To conclude, he did a strange thing.

"He caught the cat, dabbled her four paws in the soft yellow custard in the bottom of the dish and then set her down. She scampered through the kitchen into the dining-room and parlor and thence out of doors. On the bare boards of the kitchen, on the dining-room's red carpet and on the parlor's carpet of green she left impartially small golden footprints, very neat, very conspicuous. The boy smiled softly to himself.

"And that evening, on his father's return he heard a wild scampering below, the banging of the front door, a terrific meowing and the sharp crack of a rifle.

"Then little Jabez smiled softly to himself again.

"Ah, me!" he said, "there goes another victim of circumstantial evidence."

Milk Peddler's Trick.

"Of course, in this city," said a Philadelphia milk inspector, "the milk is pure, but I've been in some towns where impure milk dealers have played some funny dodges on me. You know how I work? Sneak along the streets, hold up a milkman, and take a sample right out of the can? Well, it has been a common thing when a milkman has known me by sight for him to pretend to trip on seeing me coming, fall headlong and upset his can of milk all over the pavement. Yes, that trick worked the first time, and I wasted a lot of pity on the man that played it."

SAYS REVOKE OIL TRUST CHARTERS

MISSOURI JUDGE MAKES RADICAL SUGGESTION.

HAVE BROKEN THE LAW

In Report Made to Supreme Court Judge Anthony Holds That That Body Has Authority to Make Ouster Ruling.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 25.—Judge Robert A. Anthony, appointed by the Supreme court of Missouri to take testimony in the suit begun by Attorney General Hadley against the Standard Oil company, the Waters-Pierce Oil company and the Republic Oil company, charging a conspiracy, Friday reported that the three companies entered an agreement to control prices. He recommends that their charters be revoked and that they be barred from the state, and holds that the supreme court has the authority to make the ruling of ouster.

The findings sustain all the contentions of Attorney General Hadley in the petition filed with the court. The report will be reviewed by the supreme court. It may affirm the findings or remand the case with directions for further proceedings.

Suit Is Two Years Old. Attorney General Hadley filed the suit in the supreme court two years ago, charging that the Standard Oil company, the Waters-Pierce Oil company and the Republic Oil company were in a trust and were parties to a conspiracy to control the price of oil and petroleum products in Missouri, and to limit and prevent competition in the oil business.

Judge Anthony of Fredericktown, Mo., was appointed by the supreme court to take testimony and report his finding to the court. More than a year has been occupied in the taking of the testimony, witnesses having been examined in New York, St. Louis and other cities.

In his report to the court Judge Anthony reviews in detail the testimony showing the organization and conduct of the companies. He reports to the court that the evidence shows that in 1901 the Standard, Waters-Pierce and Republic Oil companies entered into an agreement, which continued to exist up to the time of the filing of the suit, for the purpose of fixing and controlling the prices to be paid by retail dealers and others in Missouri for the products of petroleum, and to limit and prevent competition in the business of buying and selling oil.

If the report should be affirmed and the findings of the commission adopted by the court, the court will then have power to take from the Waters-Pierce Oil company, which is a Missouri corporation, its franchise rights as a corporation. With regard to the Standard and Republic companies, both of which are foreign corporations, the court would have power to cancel their right to do business in Missouri. The court may impose fines on the defendants.

SUIT TO END OIL TRUST IS ON.

Government Case Against the Standard Opens in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., May 25.—Not since the last arguments were made in the famous Northwestern Securities case in the United States circuit court here three years ago has there been so noted an array of lawyers as appeared in the court at ten o'clock Friday in the case of the United States against the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and its allied corporations. Judges Sanborn, Van Devanter, Hook and Adams were on the bench and the immediate point of issue was a bill of exceptions filed by the Standard Oil company against the government's complaint, which seeks to have the Standard Oil company and its 70 other companies declared an unlawful combination in restraint of trade and to have the combination dissolved.

Frank B. Kellogg of this city represents the government and he made the principal argument. He was assisted by M. D. Purdy, assistant United States attorney general, and C. B. Morrison of Chicago. The Standard Oil company was represented by John G. Johnson of Philadelphia and John G. Milburn of New York.

Arguments on the exceptions to the bill of complaint of the government against the Standard Oil company were concluded Friday and the court took the matter under advisement and adjourned.

Three Killed, Many Hurt in Riot. Mendota, Ill., May 25.—After terrorizing the city for eight hours, half-drunken employees of a circus became involved in a general fight with citizens here Friday night, which resulted in the killing of three men and the serious injury of a dozen others.

Defying the police department and scoffing at the streams turned upon them by a fire engine company, the rioters finally were quelled by a Kentuckian, King, of Earlsville, who fired repeatedly into the mob, fatally wounding two and seriously wounding two others.

In the fighting the entire police force was badly beaten up and the bluecoats were locked up in the depot waiting-room. The telegraph operator was similarly imprisoned in his room.

Life is a duty which we must fulfill. We are in the world; doubtless, in order to be happy; but the well-disposed find their highest happiness in the performance of their duties. Man is placed in the world to gain experience, and to use it for his own inward benefit.—J. H. Marshall.

If there is one time more than another when man seems to realize that he is in the hands of one mightier than himself when his personal pride sinks into the conviction of his helplessness, it is when the forked death dealing bolt from heaven, (swift fire of Jove) hurled by his mighty hand, flashes about him with fearful brightness, instantly blinding him with its terrible glare and the dread artillery of nature stuns him with its deafening peals, while it shakes the very earth on which he treads, then he realizes one mightier than himself. In the economy of nature this dread power is necessary. But God revealed the great and good Franklin, the means by which man can protect both his life and property from all harm from this greatest of natural forces. And in the midst of these death dealing bolts he can sit calm and fearless if his house is properly protected, which can be done with the Janesville Copper Cable Lightning Rod. Does lightning rods prevent lightning from taking place in its immediate vicinity? Yes. A properly constructed rod if it is intelligently and scientifically placed on a building and has sure connections with the moist earth and sharp points to discharge all the induced electricity, will surely prevent lightning from taking place, as it removes the cause that produces lightning.

Guaranteed to absolutely protect from damage by lightning or the price of the rod refunded.

Is it coffee? Is it tea? No! Seldom indeed do they use these evil drugs. They know that they destroy digestion—weaken the nerves—encourage insomnia. The vast majority of physicians prefer pure malt and hop beer at meals, such as

Gund's Peerless Beer

This superb beer has been brewed for over half a century from the best malting barley and imported Bohemian Hops by the celebrated "Gund Natural Process." Physicians knowing its commanding superiority over all other American beers not only approve of it for their own table, but heartily recommend it to poorly nourished and convalescing patients. The testimony of the World's greatest physicians prove that beer is undoubtedly healthy—for example we print the following:

DR. WILLIS P. KING, of Kansas City, formerly President of the Missouri State Medical Society, speaks of beer as follows:

"Beer to persons of moderate health, where used in moderate quantities, does not only increase weight and strength of body, but has the influence of aiding the digestive apparatus to digest other things taken as food. For nearly 40 years I have prescribed our best beers, ordering three to four glasses a day, in a great variety of ailments and the RESULTS have been wonderfully beneficial.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY FINISHES ITS WORK

KANSAS CITY GETS NEXT PRESBYTERIAN GATHERING.

GREETING FROM DENVER

Hope Expressed That the Bonds Between the Two Churches Will Be Strengthened—Declaration as to Temperance.

Columbus, O., May 25.—The one hundred and nineteenth general assembly of the Presbyterian church concluded its work Friday. There was no renewal, as had been expected, of the temperance controversy. On the contrary the report of the permanent committee on temperance was accepted without debate or a dissenting vote.

On the general subject of temperance work the assembly adopted this resolution: "The assembly expresses its hearty approval of all temperance organizations of whatever name, and their labors in opposition to the giant evil of intemperance. Special commendation should be given to the National Temperance society for its long and unbroken career of usefulness and for its close connection with Presbyterianism from the beginning."

At Kansas City Next Year. The assembly decided to meet next year in Kansas City, Mo.

The committee on synodical home missions reported that 11 synods are now entirely supporting their own home mission work and in addition to contributing $262,906 to that purpose, the past year gave $462,500 to the board of home missions.

The assembly adopted a reply to the members of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, dissenting to union, who recently organized an assembly at Dickson, Tenn., regretting their refusal to comply with the decision of the Cumberland branch. To the charge that the Presbyterian assembly had abandoned the Westminster confession of faith the reply stated the church had not heard of it and that it was not true. On the question of transfer of property of the Cumberland church, the reply states that the Presbyterian general assembly has no desire to take over the churches of those congregations which dissented to the union.

Finance Committee's Report. The finance committee reported that during the past year $4,609,852 had been received for the use of the various boards of the church. The trustees of the general assembly have invested in securities $968,068, a balance of $17,509 remaining in their hands uninvested.

The committee on necrology reported that during the past year 164 ministers of the church had died.

The report of the committee on narnative deplored the increasing desecration of the Sabbath, a laxity in the observance of the week of prayer, the growing restlessness in the pulpits and consequent shortening of the terms of pastorate and an increasing concern over the use of untrained laymen in duties which properly belong to ministers, declaring that danger lurks in the practice of calling men, direct from the pew to the pulpit. The report of the committee was adopted.

A message of greeting was received from the United Presbyterian assembly in session at Denver, in which the hope was expressed that the bonds between the two churches would be strengthened.

The assembly then adjourned sine die.

MANY CHARGED WITH BRIBERY.

Grand Jury at San Francisco Returns Indictments.

San Francisco, May 25.—The grand jury Friday evening returned bribery indictments as follows: Against President Patrick Calhoun, of the United Railroads, 14; against Assistant to the President Thornehill, Mullally, 14; against Attorney T. L. Ford and W. M. Abbott, of the legal department of the United Railroads, 14 each; against Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, 16; against Abraham Ruef, 14; against President Louis Glass, of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company, two; against Theodore V. Halsey, formerly an agent of that corporation, one. Ruef, Schmitz, Calhoun, Mullally, Ford and Abbott are charged with bribing 14 supervisors to grant an overhead trolley franchise to the United Railroads. Schmitz is further charged with bribery in connection with the fixing of the gas company's rate and with receiving $5,000 in the United Railroads franchise deal.

Superior Judge Coffey fixed bail in the sum of $10,000 on each of the charges and gave the accused until 11 a. m. Saturday morning to furnish bonds.

International Meet Not Probable. London, May 25.—It is now generally understood that there is no likelihood of a track and field meet taking place in the United States this year between teams representing Oxford and Cambridge and Harvard and Yale. The latter challenged the former in April, but the date suggested, July 4, was considered too early.

Duncombe started back. The girl half rose to her feet.

"The front door!" he exclaimed. "The servants will have gone to bed. I must answer it myself."

She clung to him with a sudden abandon. She was white to the lips.

"I am afraid," she murmured. "Don't leave me alone."

He glanced toward the window.

"By Jove, it may be a trap!" he exclaimed. "Let them ring. I'll stay here with you."

They stood hand in hand listening. His head was turned toward the door, but the gentle pressure of her fingers drew him round. Her face was upturned to his. Something of the fear had gone. There was an eager, almost desperate light in her softened eyes and a tinge of color in her cheeks. He caught her into his arms and their lips met. She disengaged herself almost immediately.

"I don't care," she said, with a little laugh. "That is the first kiss I have ever given to a man, and very likely it will be the last. You won't be able to say that I have gone away without paying my bill. Now go and open the front door, Sir George."

He hesitated for a moment. "Say only the word, Phyllis, and no one in the world shall ever take you away."

She did not even answer him. He left her with a little sigh.

"Spencer," he said, "if you hear the slightest noise in that room go in and shout for me."

Spencer nodded. The front door bell rang again.

CHAPTER XXIV.

DUNCOMBE unfastened the chain and bolts of the ponderous front door and looked out into the darkness. A carriage and pair of horses were drawn up outside. A man and a woman, both dressed in long traveling coats, were standing upon the doorstep.

"This is Duncombe Hall, I believe," the man said. "Is Sir George Duncombe at home?"

"I am Sir George Duncombe," he answered. "Will you come inside?"

They crossed the threshold at once. The man was tall and dark, and his voice and bearing were unmistakable. The woman was fair, petite and apparently very sleepy. She wore magnificent furs, and she had the air of being in a very bad temper.

"We really are heartily ashamed of ourselves for disturbing you at such an hour, Sir George," the man said, "but you will pardon us when you understand the position. I am the Marquis de St. Ethol, and this is my wife. I have a letter to you from my friend the Duke of Chestow, with whom we have been staying."

Duncombe concealed his astonishment as well as he was able. He bowed to the lady and led them toward the library. Spencer, who had heard them coming, had hastily concealed his revolver and was lounging in an easy chair reading the evening paper.

"I am afraid that my servants are all in bed," Duncombe said, "and I can only offer you a bachelor's hospitality. This is my friend, Mr. Spencer—the Marquis and Marquise de St. Ethol. Wheel that easy chair up, Spencer, will you?"

Spencer's brow had betrayed not the slightest sign of surprise, but Duncombe fancied that the marquis had glanced at him keenly. He was holding a note in his hand, which he offered to Duncombe.

"My errand is so unusual and the hour so extraordinary," he said, "that I thought it would be better for Chestow to write you a line or two. Will you please read it?"

Duncombe tore open the envelope.

Chestow, Wednesday Evening.

My Dear Duncombe—My friend De St. Ethol tells me that he is obliged at great personal inconvenience to execute a commission for a friend, which involves a somewhat uncourteous call upon you tonight. He desires me, therefore, to send you these few lines. The Marquis de St. Ethol and his wife are among my closest friends. It gives me great pleasure to vouch for them both in every way. Yours sincerely, CHESTOW.

"The letter, I am afraid," the marquis said, smiling, "does little to satisfy your curiosity."

"Certainly," Duncombe interrupted. "But won't you take something? I am glad to see that Spencer is looking after your wife."

The marquis had raised her veil and was leaning back in a chair, with a sandwich poised in the fingers of one hand and a glass of burgundy in the other. She was looking a little less bored and was chatting gayly to Spencer, whose French was equal to her own.

"I thank you very much," the marquis said. "I will not take anything to drink, but if you have cigarettes—Ah, thanks!"

He lit one and sat on the arm of an easy chair.

"The facts are these," he said. "I have a great friend in Paris who, knowing that I was at Chestow and returning to France tomorrow, has, I fear I must say, taken some advantage of my good nature. I am asked to call here and escort home to her friends a young lady who, I understand, is for the moment a guest under your roof. My friend, I must say, telegraphs in a most mysterious manner, but he is evidently very anxious that we should accede to his request. Our appearance here at this time of night I admit is most unjustifiable, but what were we to do? It is absolutely necessary for my wife to catch the 2:20 from Charing Cross tomorrow. I hope that my friend will some day appreciate my devotion. To come round by your house I have had to borrow a carriage from my friend Chestow. We shall have a drive to Norwich and catch a train from there to London in the small hours of the morning. I presume the young lady is here?"

"The young lady is here," Duncombe answered. "May I inquire the name of the friend to whom you are asked to take her?"

The marquis yawned slightly. He, too, seemed weary.

"My dear Sir George," he said, "I trust that you will appreciate my position in this matter. I do not even know the young lady's name. My eccentric friend in his telegram, which occupied four forms, most especially insisted that I should ask or answer no questions concerning her."

"You are not aware, then, of the circumstances which led to her coming here?" Duncombe asked.

"I am utterly ignorant of them," the marquis answered. "I am constrained to remain so."

"You no doubt have some message for her," Duncombe said. "Her position here is a little peculiar. She may desire some sort of information as to her destination."

The marquis knocked the ash off his cigarette.

"You will produce the young lady," he said, "I think that you will find her prepared to come with us without asking any questions."

Duncombe threw open the door which led into the inner room. The girl stepped forward as far as the threshold and looked out upon them.

"This is the Marquis and the Marquise de St. Ethol," Duncombe said to her. "They have brought me a letter from the Duke of Chestow, and they have come to take you back to France."

The girl looked anxiously for a moment at the marquis.

"If any word or sign passed between them it escaped Duncombe. Phyllis was content, however, to ask no questions.

"I am quite ready," she said calmly. "Your luggage can be sent on," she remarked.

Duncombe approached Phyllis and stood by her side.

"These people," he said, "will not tell me where they are taking you to. Are you content to go?"

"I must go," she answered simply. "You wish me to give you—"

"If you please," she interrupted. He turned toward the door.

Address lists to "WHO IS WHO," Gazette Office, before Saturday, June 1. The Prize Awards and names of business houses will be published in THE GAZETTE Saturday, June 1.

(1) There is only one place in Janesville where you can get Chili Con Carne and Spaghetti. Those who have tasted these delicacies say there is nothing else quite so appetizing and palatable. Great skill and experience are required to properly prepare these dishes and those who have tried them say that as served at this place they are delicious. Served on the ground floor and in the large dining-room upstairs. Who serves these dishes, and where is his place of business?

(2) A large clothing firm, in a prominent location, has often made use, in its advertisements, of the style of type well known to those who follow the fortunes of "Buster Brown" in the comic supplements. Buster, you know, is always well dressed, and so are the men—big and little—who patronize this store. Beside, "Buster Brown" printing type referred to above gives a happy distinctiveness to the firm's advertisements, just as the clothing and furnishings sold there give to its wearers an air of well-dressed distinction. What is the firm, and who is its manager?

(3) Ever stop to think how important a factor is milk in your good health—pure milk? Pure milk means health; milk that may be pure—and may not—too often means disease. Pasteurized milk is absolutely pure. The process of pasteurization removes even the remotest possibility of impurity. What company furnishes pasteurized milk, and invites you to visit its plant—the home of cleanliness and purity?

(4) A firm of brothers on River street handles probably a larger variety of wares than any other concern in Janesville—everything from a needle to a locomotive. Who are they?

(5) What jeweler advertises watch cleanings for $1.00 and watch main springs for $1.00 and warrants them for one year? All other repairs are equally low in price, and all work is guaranteed to be satisfactorily done. This jeweler does a very large repair business, and has one of the choicest and most complete stocks of watches, rings, silverware and all sorts of up-to-date jewelry. A specialty is made of properly testing eyes and fitting eye-glasses, and two expert opticians are ready to give you their best services if you have need of them. The store is located on West Milwaukee street. Who is it?

(6) What laundry, located near the river, is the best laundry in Janesville? It is fitted with the most improved modern machinery, employs only the most skilled workmen, and has a long experience in management which is in a position to please and satisfy its customers. That it does is evidenced by its large and constantly increasing patronage. Shirts, collars, and all articles come back from this laundry spotlessly clean, perfectly laundered, and with colors unfaded. No chemicals used. This laundry makes a specialty of prompt deliveries. Who is it?

(7) Who is the big land agent who stopped at the Myers Hotel recently? Who is his traveling representative who has been stopping at the Myers Hotel for several months?

(8) There is a Candy Kitchen in this city, which advertises to save you 50 per cent on all your candy. It makes a specialty of pure, home-made candy and sweets of all sorts. Next time you buy candy drop in and see George—that's his first name. He has a reputation for selling the best candy in the city at lower prices than others ask for lower quality goods. He makes ice cream, too, rich and smooth, and nothing but pure sweet cream goes into it. Special orders are carefully looked after. What is the name of the proprietor of the Janesville Candy Kitchen?

(9) What newspaper prints more local news, more advertising, has more subscribers, is better edited, than any other newspaper in Janesville? This paper prints the only telegraph news received in Janesville, is a member of the Associated Press, and has the exclusive franchise from that splendid newsgathering organization?

(10) The big dry goods store on Milwaukee street inaugurated a spring clean-up sale today, which will continue through all of next week. On account of the backward season all spring wear in this big store is being sold away below the original selling price. Ladies' misses', and children's suits, coats, and jackets, furnishings of all sorts, linens, shirt-waists, underwear, and all the seasonable spring lines are being sold at prices that will surprise you. The immense stocks of new and stylish summer goods are offered at prices throughout which are only made possible by the fact that the firm buys in large quantities and is thereby enabled to give its patrons the full benefit of its superior buying facilities. Who is it?

(11) The Canadian Pacific Railway has 3,000,000 acres of land for sale on the main line of the railroad, near Calgary. These are the most productive lands in Canada; water, soil and climate are splendid, and the crops grown are alfalfa, sugar beets, wheat, oats, etc. The lands are being rapidly settled and are increasing in value every year. A Janesville firm is selling large tracts of these lands to settlers and investors, and runs a special excursion on a private car, at very low rates, every first and third Tuesday in the month. If you are not getting perfectly satisfactory meats, give this market a trial order and be pleasantly surprised. Both phones. Who is it?

(13) The name of Janesville is a familiar one in every city and hamlet in the United States and in almost every country on the globe. This is due to the widespread advertising of the company which makes the popular fountain pen whose name is a synonym for pen perfection. You can hardly pick up a magazine of prominence without seeing the ad. of this pen, and you can hardly find a man who has tried several makes of fountain pens that does not carry one of this make. Next to a good watch, a trustworthy and reliable fountain pen is the most important and necessary article to carry. This pen writes the instant it is touched to paper; it never floods or soaks the fingers. What is the name of this pen, and what are the two words by which it is equally well known?

(18) Careful investment in bonds, stocks, grain, provisions, coffee and cotton often brings big returns. When dealing in any of these commodities you should place your trades through a reliable and responsible broker—one whose advice you can depend upon. tains, sofa pillow covers, and all kindred lines in large variety, are sold at prices which are only made possible by the large number handled. The name of the store might suggest that it is noisy, but if there is any unusual noise about the store, it must be created by the prices, which are so low they speak loudly for themselves. What is the name of the store?

(21) A rolling snowball gets larger every minute. And the larger it gets the faster it increases in size. That's exactly the way money grows at interest when deposited in a strong bank. (46) Who is the proprietress of the men's furnishings and notion store, located on West Milwaukee street, that carries the most complete stock of notions and furnishing of all sorts, ladies' wrappers, hosiery, and underwear, crockery, linens, men's shirts, overalls, underwear, pants, and gloves at prices lower than all the others? The stock of this store includes everything that you would expect to find in the most complete establishment of this sort, and its motto has always been "The most-for-the-money." No matter what your needs are in the way of notions or furnishings, you may have them supplied here at a noticeable saving. Who is it?

(47) What company offers to equip your buildings with lightning rods, give you six months or a year's time, without note or contract of any kind, guarantee the goods, and give you an ironclad guarantee to refund the purchase price of the rod if your building is damaged by lightning? This firm does not countenance the methods of the traditional lightning rod agent, and has made a big success by its liberal plan of doing business. Who is it?

(48) What firm on River street handles hardware, harness, saddles, whips, robes, blankets, etc.? This firm carries a complete stock of hardware of all kinds. If you are in need of anything in this line don't fail to call at this store and you will certainly be pleased. (49) The leading dry goods store, which has been in business for many years, and continues to increase its large patronage, is located on East Milwaukee St., near the bridge. This store has always led in the quality of its offerings and in the low prices at which its goods have been offered, and for these reasons has always been the leader. The stock is always new and complete and everything in the dry goods and suits line can always be found there. The millinery department is a special feature. The latest styles are offered in great variety, and the prices are very moderate throughout. Who is it?

(50) Who is the harness man, located on the Corn Exchange, who guarantees to save you money on your harness and horse goods purchases? He sells elegant single harness, regular $12.50 stock, at $10, and double driving harness at a saving of $2 to $4. He will save you the freight on your purchase and guarantees to meet legitimate catalog house prices. Who is he?

(51) The store conducted for many years by Rudolph & Sons is now owned by a firm which not only has retained all the former patronage of the store, but has increased—and is steadily building up its trade. This store handles a full line of groceries of all sorts, shoes and hosiery, furnishings, hardware, notions and stationery—about everything, in fact, that you expect to buy at a store. The celebrated Seitz shoes are handled by this firm. No matter what you buy here, the firm guarantees satisfaction, and if any purchase is not entirely satisfactory they offer to make it right or cheerfully refund your money without question. Both phones 128. Who is it?

British Racial Efficacy.
 After you have complained that the Englishman grabs the earth, you remember that he holds it, and after watching his portentous swallow you remember his wonderful power of digestion. If he takes more than his share of the world, he has the talent to keep more than his share. The talent may not be an ethical merit, but it is a proof of racial efficacy.—Sidney (Australia) Rock Fellow.
